

3. Translational studies in literacy

Bearing on the knowledge from the previous classes, this class will present translational studies that rely on the neuroscience of language knowledge to enhance basic education. The idea is to stir the students' critical vein to analyze these studies and think of other solutions, be it evaluations or classroom activities, to enhance problems faced by basic education teachers.